

FREESTATE
FARMS

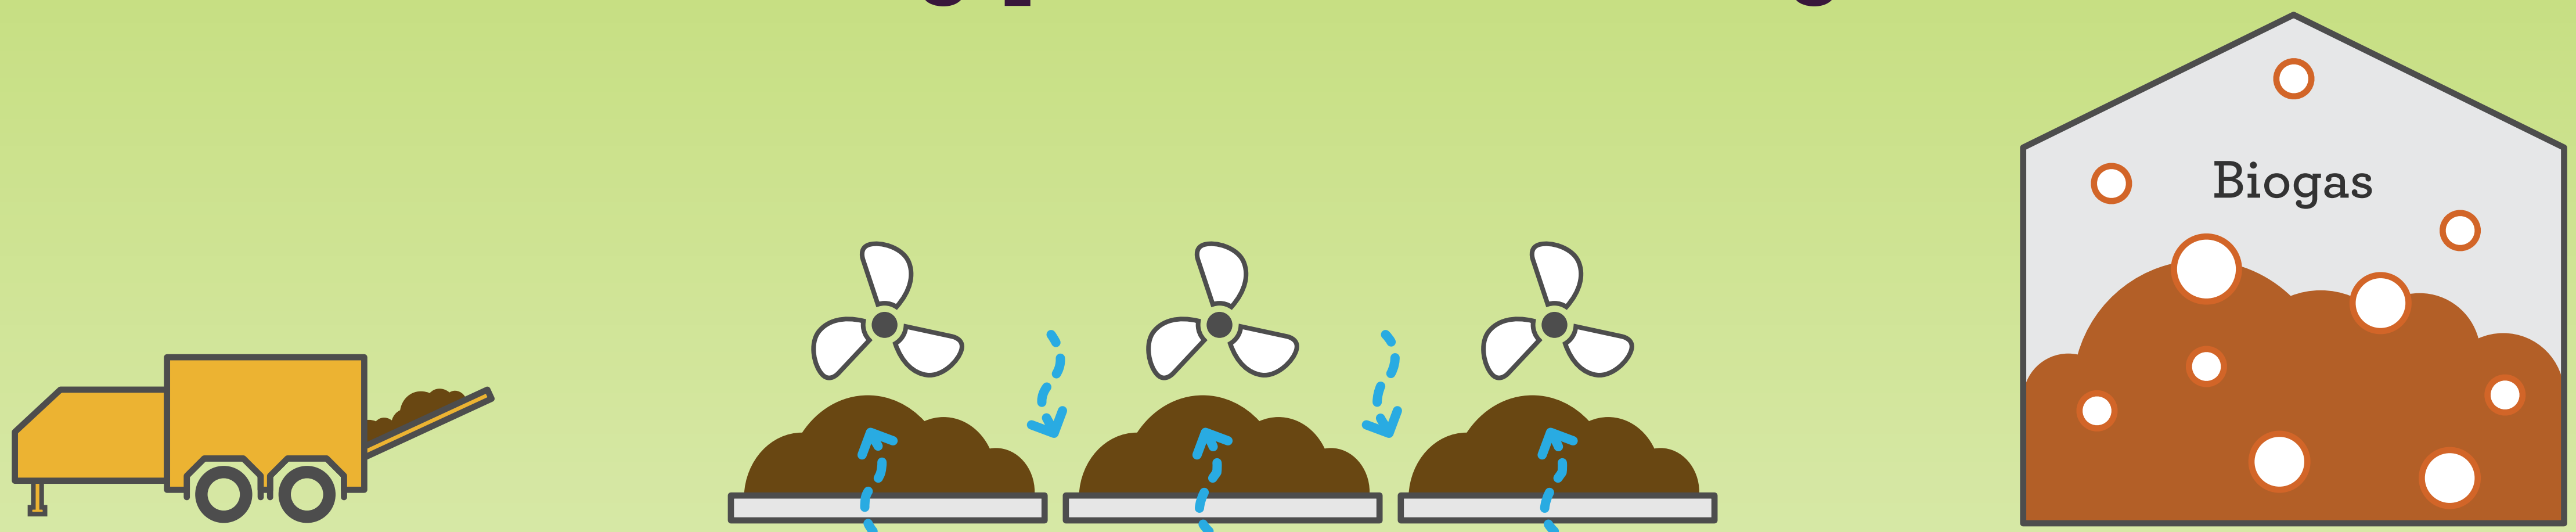

Our process

We receive food and yard waste from the local community instead of having those materials go to a landfill or incinerator.

We process the organic waste using advanced applications of existing proven technologies...

...recycling it into products that support, power, sustain, and nourish...

*compost, mulch
and specialty
soil products*

*baseload
renewable energy*

Fresh local organic produce

...thus making our local communities cleaner, healthier, more beautiful, and altogether full-circle sustainable.